Can It Be Only Five Years?

It was just five years ago (January 24, 1983) that the CD was officially introduced at the 17th annual Midem convention in Cannes, France.

Just five years ago when Polygram announced that they would introduce the CD March 1 in the U.K., France, Germany and the Netherlands and introduce the U.S. to this new format in the third or fourth quarter.

The initial release consisted of two hundred titles from Polygram, 25 titles from CBS, 11 titles from Arato, ten from RCA and a few from Chrysalis and Virgin U.K.

Could this be only five years ago? From January to June of 1987 43 million CD's were sold in the United States, 43 million. That's out of a total of 330 million units of all formats, representing a total of 687.5 million dollars and showing a growth from the first six month of 1986 of 113%. These numbers are for a format that is just celebrating it's fifth anniversary. Incredible, and remember, those figures are for the first six months of 1987 only, the full totals for the year are not yet available.

The big question in 1983 was CD packaging, clear plastic 6 1/2 X 6 X 3/8 " as it is was being introduced in Japan and Europe, or should the box be supplemented by a larger carrier pack designed to fit existing LP bins and prevent pilferage? Now the big question is just how big can this format get now that most of the manufacturing and supply problems have been solved.

If we sound a bit in awe, it's only because we are, it's just hard to realize that the CD is only 5 years old and that it's 1987 domestic sales will be in the hundred million units and billion dollar range.

The 1960s Enter The Rock And Roll Hall Of Fame

Lee Jeske

NEW YORK – It was like a 1960s acid flashback, as the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, in its third induction dinner, left the 1950s behind and inducted Bob Dylan, the Beatles, the Beach Boys, the Supremes, and the Drifters. The black-tie dinner at the Waldorf featured the usual awards-dinner trappings—speeches, film clip highlights, thank yous – and it also featured an unusual amount of controversy, as Paul McCartney and Diana Ross decided to skip the proceedings, and the Beach Boys' Mike Love decided to take them to task for it, challenge Bruce Springsteen to a cutting contest with the Beach Boys and, in general, make a fool of himself.

Fast forward: the jam session. The tradition at the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame dinners is that, at the end of the evening, a jam session ensues. Paul Shaffer plays social director, guitars appear out of the woodwork, and everybody jams. And then, after about 45 minutes, Bill Graham thanks everybody and cuts the thing off at the ankles.

In the 45 minutes this time, we heard Bob Dylan and George Harrison essaying "Along Along the Watchtower," Dylan doing "Like a Rolling Stone," Billy Joel, Harrison, Mick Jagger and Bruce Springsteen doing "I Saw Her Standing There," John Fogerty doing "Born on the Bayou" (he was going to do "Long Tall Sally," but when he saw that Little Richard had split, he said, "then I'll do one of my own songs"), the Beach Boys doing "Barbara Ann," Ben E. King doing "Stand Be Me," Mary Wilson doing "Stop! In The Name of Love," that kind of thing.

Travis Walks Away With Four Awards

AMA Award Show A Success

By Tom De Savia

LOS ANGELES – Top winners at this year's American Music Awards included Randy Travis, Anita Baker, Michael Jackson and Whitney Houston. Travis walked away with four trophies, winning in each category he was nominated in; Anita Baker and Michael Jackson garnered two each; and Whitney Houston, the show's co-host, received honors in both the "Favorite Pop/Rock Female Vocalist" and "Favorite Pop/Rock Single" categories. This year's event featured a total of five hosts for the program: Whitney Houston, Barbara Mandrell, Smokey Robinson, The Bee Gees and Mick Fleetwood. In 1988's show, the 15th annual broadcast of the awards, continued in tradition of winning staging and notch performances. Gloria Estefan & Miami Sound Machine opened the evening with a rousing medley featuring several of their hits; the evening continued with stellar performances by the likes of Lisa Lisa Cult Jam, L.L. Cool J, and (via satellite from Australia) Icehouse. Eric Carmen and the duo of Bill Medley & Jennifer Warnes were featured in an elaborate salute to the hit film Dirty Dancing. In addition, hosts Houston, Mandrell, Robinson and The Bee Gees all offered exceptionally strong performances of their recent hits. Perhaps the evening's musical centerpiece, though, came from Houston - who, along with her mother Cissy Houston and brother Gary Garland Houston, performed a spirited gospel number which garnered the trio an instantaneous standing ovation.

The evening closed with The Beach Boys receiving the AMA's prestigious "Award Of Merit." Rocker David Lee Roth led the presentation - which featured salutes from the likes of Quincy Jones, Glen Campbell and actor Henry Winkler. Following their acceptance of the award, The Beach Boys were joined on stage by a massive group of celebrities in performing their 1963 #1 hit "Surfin' U.S.A."

MICHAEL JACKSON

Man In The Mirror (4:55) - Epic (34-7668) - Yellow Brick Road Music-MCA Music Pub.-Aerostation Corp./ASCAP - S. Garrett-G. Ballard - Producers: Q. Jones-M. Jackson

Quincy and Michael have fashioned a simple but sincere track around this excellent song about changing the world from the inside out. Michael's intimate vocal has a very present, dry sound, and draws the listener into the lyrical feel. The record, builds momentum until the background vocals and Michael snap, crackle and pop the message across. Another mega-hit.

OUT OF THE BOX

WHITE LION

Wait (3:13) - Atlantic (7-89126) - Vavoom Music Inc./ASCAP - V. Bratta-M. Tramp - Producer: M. Waganer

Wait, hold on... it sounds like metal, it distorts like metal - but, lo and behold it's really music! This impressive single features guitarists Vito Bratta and Mike tramp constructing an intelligent song replete with acoustic guitar intro, exploding into great vocal harmony stacks and surging guitars. Plus it's a good song...

WHITESNAKE

Give Me All Your Love (2:58 - Gefen (7-28103DJ) - Whitesnake Music Overseas-Warner Bros. Music Corp./ASCAP - Coverdale-Sykes - Producers: M. Stone-K. Olsen

Follow-up single to their smash ballad "Is This Love," Whitesnake gets right to the point with a curt, metallic, rave-out that shows what this band is really about. Producers Stone and Olsen know how to create a huge live guitar sound and capture a rumbling kick. This is the meat and potatoes that Whitesnake fans want.

OUT OF THE BOX

INXS

Devil Inside (5:11) - Atlantic (7-89144) - MCA Music Pub./ASCAP - A. Farriss-M. Hutchence - Producer: C. Thomas

Follow up to the Australian sextet's first American #1 hit "Need You Tonight." On this one Michael Hutchence and company use a Daytripper-like guitar sound and riff it under a sultry, breathy vocal to put the point across. From their album Kick; this one should do well on AOR and CHR formats alike.

OUT OF THE BOX

JAMES TAYLOR

Never Die Young (3:56) - Columbia (38-07616) - Country Road Music, Inc./BMI - J. Taylor - Producer: D. Grolnick

Taylor weaves his magical web of hope with all the delicateness we've come to expect. Taylor's lyrics are, as always, a dazzling string of pearls that mesmerize your heart while the musical feel covers you like a warm breeze. Some creative back chorus lines fill out the record. A great pick for soft rock and new age formats.

Going Back to Cali (3:45 - Def Jam (38 07679) - Def Jam Music Inc./ASCAP - R. Rubin-J.T. Smith - Producer: R. Rubin

This rap is lifted from the soundtrack for the film Less Than Zero. Writer/producers Rick Rubin and J.T. Smith manage to create the weird, hopeless feeling of paradise lost and found and lost again. The track fades with a horn solo that seems to say that all is not right in "Cali". Should do well on Black Contemporary.

OUT OF THE BOX

JOHN COUGAR MELLENCAMP
Check It Out (4:20) - Mercury (870 126-7 DJ) - Riva Music Inc./ASCAP - J. Mellencamp - Producers: J. Mellencamp-D. Gehman

From the Mercury Album Lonesome Jubilee, John Cougar Mellencamp dwells on America, and his rough county-ish feel takes you into the heartland. Features a nice instrumental hook line that sounds like an otherworldly bagpipe and leads into the verses. Please "Check It Out." Should do well on AOR and CHR radio formats.

TEENA MARIE

OOO La La La (4:15) - Epic (34-07708) - April Music Inc.-Midnight Magnet Pub. Co.-Oh/Bev Music-McNella Music/ASCAP - T. Marie-A McGrier - Producer: A. McGrier-T. Marie

Teena puts the Do-Wop back into it with this easy moving early sixties feeling song. Her vocals are as assured as ever, and this is a good vehicle for her soulful presence. She co-wrote, produced and arranged the cut.

FEATURE PICKS

MICK JAGGER - Say You Will (3:55) - Columbia (38-07703) - Promopub B.V. (PRS)-BRG Music Ltd.-Adm. Arista Music/ASCAP - M. Jagger-D. Stewart - Producers: M. Jagger-D. Stewart

A well conceived song for Jagger, who pulls back a little to do some real clean singing and emotive phrasing. Has more of a pop feel and should do well on CHR as well as AOR.

STACEY Q - Don't Make a Fool of Yourself (4:06) - Atlantic (7-89135) - French Lick Music-Dutch Puppet Music-adm. Bug Music/BMI - Hahn-St. James-Swain - Producer: Jan St. James TONIO K.

Notes From The Lost Civilization – Atlantic/A&M (SP 763) – Producers: Miner-Tonio K. – Bar Coded
Is Tonio K. the most underrated voice in popular music today? Possibly, but the release of Notes From The Lost Civilization should help alter that. Mr. K. weaves some of the most infectious and intelligent pop numbers in recent memory. Check out "Without Love," "The Executioner's Song," "Stay" and "City Life"... hell, check 'em all out! Don't miss this album!

BYRN HITCHCOCK AND THE EGYPTIANS – Globe Of Frogs – A&M (SP 5182) – Producers: Hitchcock-Metcalf-Windsor-Collier – Bar Coded

Hitchcock captivates with his unique, but hardly unaccessible, brand of pop/rock. Hopefully Globe Of Frogs will take Hitchcock beyond his established Alternative/College base.

MIDNIGHT OIL – Diesel And Dust – Columbia (BFC 40967) – Producers: Livesey-Midnight Oil – Bar Coded

Australian hitmakers should make more than a slight impact on American shores with their latest release... "Beds Are Burning," "Artic World" and "Sell Your Soul" are among the LP's standout tracks.

L.A. GUNS – L.A. Guns – Vertigo/PG (834 144-1) – Producer: J. Faraci – Bar Coded

Metal outfit is already creating quite a stir at both radio and retail. Debut

LP should push band into the forefront of the national rock scene. With titles like "Sex Action" and "Hollywood Tease" how can they lose?

TAMI SHOW – Tami Show – Chrysalis (BFV 41577) – Producer: M. Chapman – Bar Coded

LITA FORD – Lita – Dreamland/RCA (6397-1-R) – Producer: M. Chapman – Bar Coded

High priestess of metal should garner a new breed of fans with the release of Lita. Ford presents a rockin' vocal style and tremendous ability as a guitarist. First single up is "Kiss Me Deadly."

RADIO MOGULS, ROCKERS & LABEL EXECUTIVES PARTY AT SPAGO - It was a night of frivolous partying, Hollywood style, last Thursday (21) at the ever-so-chic restaurant Spago. The event: a bash celebrating Pollack Media Group's 5th Annual Programming/Management Conference, currently being held here in Los Angeles.

Host Jeff Pollack, known affectionately by many as "Media Guru," is president and founder of the organization. The Pollack Media Group consults a variety of independent radio stations (all formats) in the United States, England, France, Australia and New Zealand; offering (according to a press release) "an objective opinion and sounding board in all aspects of a station's sound - including imaging, promotion, advertising and marketing, production, research and positioning"

Celebs spotted at the packed (...we mean crowded) eatery included Robbie Robertson, Roy Orbison, a batch of Bangles (sans Susanna), T-Bone Burnett, Bob Seger, REO Speedwagon's Kevin Cronin, Eurythmic Dave Stewart and Ms. Lita Ford.

In addition, party-goers were treated to ringside seats for the unveiling of David Lee Roth's multi-dimensional "mountain" billboard (supporting his brand new Skyscraper LP) which stands atop Sunset Blvd.'s Tower record store. Roth scaled down the side of the store into the crowd of thousands - all the while his new album was playing through monitors and a couple of Roth beauties go-go danced from their perch on the "mountain's" side. A short while later, the ever-flamboyant Mr. R. put in an appearance at Jeff Pollack's Spago bash across the street.

Afterwards, those in attendance were invited down the street to the Roxy Theatre to catch live performances by The Radiators and Keith Emerson.

CLIMBING 'O' THE MOUNTAIN - To celebrate the release of his new Warner Bros. LP, Skyscraper, the inimitable Mr. David Lee Roth scaled down a multi-dimensional billboard (resembling a mountain) perched atop the Tower Record Store on the Sunset Strip.

ALLAN McDUGALL - We would like to send our best wishes to BMI's Allan McDougall, who is recovering nicely from recent triple by-pass surgery. McDougall, an industry veteran, is an executive at BMI. Here's to you, Allan...

THE BITCH IS BACK - It's the stuff dreams are made of... MCA recording artist Elton John will be featured performing a duet with none other than Minnie Mouse in an upcoming Disney Television special, Totally Minnie, set to air on NBC on March 18.

On the special, Elton will join Minnie for a rousing duet of (what else...) "Don't Go Breaking My Heart" (the song, originally recorded by John and Kiki Dee, topped the Cash Box charts for three weeks in mid-1976).

REED & RAITT - Longtime friends A.C. Reed and Bonnie Raitt recently reunited when their respective touring schedules found them both in Steamboat Springs, Colorado. Raitt recently turned in an appearance on Reed's new Alligator album I'm In The Wrong Business!; Reed joined Raitt on stage to reprise their vocal duet on "She's Fine," a track from the album.

CLUBS, CLUBS, CLUBS - Where to go... who to see... here's some help: Pato Banton and Private Domain will appear at The Roxy on February 3; Joe Ely and Rosie Flores will appear at the Music Machine on February 5; Robin Trower will stop by San Pedro's Waters Club for a gig on February 6; The Rainmakers will headline at North Hollywood's Palomino on February 7; Bogart's in Long Beach will host The Meat Puppets and House Of Freaks on February 9; the one, the only, the fabulous Paul Carrack will make a rare solo appearance at The Palace on February 19 (check out his recent Chrysalis LP One Good Reason - it's incredible); you can catch the inimitable OVIS at least twice this month - February 2 at the Coconut Teaser and on February 11 at Madame Wong's West; and don't forget to celebrate Valentine's Day (a little early) with The Tearjerkers at Madame Wong's West on February 6.

I'M VERY HAPPY... - Why? Because I've just located a copy of Meet The Brady Bunch, released in 1972 on Paramount Records. The LP features the Brady clan warbling through timeless renditions of such tunes as Don McLean's "American Pie," Bread's "Baby, I'm A Want You," Badfinger's "Day After Day" and Lobo's "Me And You And A Dog Named Boo." Anyone knowing the whereabouts of the lost Brady's, contact me at 213-464-8241.

Until next week...

Big Trouble

By Tom De Savia

LOS ANGELES - The story of how Epic recording artists Big Trouble formed is like a page out of the book of modern Hollywood fables. Four girls were chosen, following an open audition of more than 500 musicians, to be a part of an exciting new band (which would evolve into Big Trouble). The group is comprised of: Bobbi Eakes, lead vocals; Rebecca Ryan, keyboards and vocals; Julia Farey, bass; and Suzy Zarow, drums and percussion. Recently, Eakes spoke to Cash Box, discussing the band.

Eakes explained the original hesitation she encountered when presented with fronting an all-girl band: "I was a little skeptical, I've always worked with male groups - I thought that was the only way to go. You hear stories about how girls can be catty... but it has really been a joy. I didn't really realize it at the time, but when working with guys, suggestions and things you might say in a creative process just seemed to get brushed aside." She continued "This is really a democracy. Anything anybody says is taken seriously and looked at objectively, that's really nice."

Shortly after the formation of the group, famed musician/composer Giorgio Moroder was recruited as the band's producer; he aided in completing the goal of transforming the four musicians into a top-notch musical unit. "The band got together and did a few showcases," Eakes recalled. "We did one for Giorgio and he really liked what he saw and liked the potential of the band so he signed a production deal with us." In addition to production duties, Moroder contributed a bevy of original songs to the project.

Epic then signed the band, resulting in their debut LP - simply titled Big Trouble. The label has just released "When The Love Is Good" as the second single from the LP; the album's first single, "Crazy World," made an impressive showing late last year on Cash Box's Top 100 singles chart.

Eakes, a former Miss Georgia, has been singing professionally since her high school days in Macon, GA. Early on, she set her sights on a career in music, and by 19 was touring the east coast with various regional bands. She was set to join Bob Seger's touring band as a back-up singer when she auditioned for and joined Big Trouble.

Keyboardist and vocalist Ryan, an L.A. native, played with several local bands over the years. Prior to joining Big Trouble, she served as a back-up vocalist on Grammy-winning jazz vocalist Bobby McFerrin's U.S. tour.

San Francisco native Farey was contributing her bass talents to several Bay Area bands and becoming actively involved in a burgeoning modeling career before joining Big Trouble.

Drummer/percussionist Zarow, former pre-med student who earned a degree in medical technology, played with several groups (one involving a tour of the Orient) before auditioning and joining the ranks of Big Trouble.

"Once we got together [people] realized that the band had a lot of potential as a legitimate music act... I've done nothing but sing all my life and that was really the only thing that I ever wanted to do." She concluded, "I think we have a good three or four hits on this record. I'm really excited about the future."

Supertramp

By Julius Robinson

LOS ANGELES - It's been seventeen years since the making of their first LP Supertramp, and with the release of Supertramp's latest album Free As A Bird (A&M), there is a renewal of freshness and energy for the band. In spirit and song, Supertramp in the seventies and early eighties had been a two-headed creature, with founder Rick Davies earthy, bluesy sense in dialogue with Roger Hodgson's pop-progressive musings. It worked, but one sensed the artistic diversity that catalyzed and fused their visions into such masterpiece albums as Crime of the Century and Breakfast in America might someday split them apart. Such is often the natural evolution of individually prolific and diverse creative partners, and like the split of Lennon and McCartney, there was a period of inevitable comparison of their individual work and their col-

Supertramp

...I was listening to music at the library,
...and I was hearing Chicago blues, and ...I was hearing pop on the radio, and
...we were digging up Appalachian

...was thinking about the concept of
...roots and I was thinking there were a

...at Lincoln Center's Vivian
...Beaumont Theater, and opens on
...Broadway at the Court Theater this ...week. Sarafina! centers around the ...Soweto massacre of 1976, when the ...South African military gunned
...down schoolchildren protesting the
...compulsory learning of Afrikaans,
...the language of South Africa's
...white minority. The cast is made up
...of high school aged kids, and the ...music itself is mbaqanga, or ...township-jive, played by a band of ...South African musicians. The ...popularity of Paul Simon's
...Graceland has ensured the release of
...plenty of records of township-jive--

...to which this soundtrack is a wel...come addition - but the play itself is ...a rare opportunity to experience the ...live performance of mbaqanga.

...GRAMMY TIRADE - Let me get
...this straight. There is a "Best New ...Age Performance" category for the
...Grammy Awards but there is no
..."Best Rap Performance/ Rec-
...ording" category? I count five rap
...albums in the Cash Box Top 100 Al-
...bums chart, and no new age albums
...in the Top 100 (unless you count
...Whitney Houston). What's up?
...Hmmm, could the reason be that
...rich white people buy that New Age
...aural wallpaper stuff while black
...teens buy rap? Naw, that'd be racist.
...So I'm waiting for an explanation. I ...mean, I guess I can understand that
...Debbie Gibson and Public Enemy
...didn't get nominated for "Best New ...Artist" (that category is a matter of ...opinion), but ignoring an entire
...vital, growing music isn't a matter
...of taste. It's strange and a little of...fensive. This stuff has got to stop.

...ELVIS! ELVIS! ELVIS! - This ...past summer RCA brought out a ...bunch of high class repackageings of ...Elvis Presley material in time to ...commemorate the tenth anniver...sary of the King's passing. RCA has ...been bringing a new dignity to their ...treatment of the Presley catalogue
...since they restored many of the ...original Presley albums to mono
...some three years ago, on the occa...sion of Elvis's fiftieth birthday. Now
...the trend continues with *Essential
...Elvis - The First Movies*, a 23-song,
...digitally remastered, and mono-
...restored collection of tracks from
...Love Me Tender, Loving You, and *Jail-
...house Rock*.

...Critic Dave Marsh once argued
...that to assemble the complete pic...ture of Presley's genius we have to ...pay attention to the, um, high
...points of his movie soundtrack
...work during what is usually con...sidered the period of his greatest
...decline: the time between March 24,
...1958, when Elvis entered the Army,
...and December 3, 1968, when the
...comeback TV special was broad-
...cast. This deluxe package of songs
...from the first three Elvis films might
...do the trick, and then again, it might ...be a snooze. Remember the thrill of
...Side 4 of this summer's The Com...plete Sun Sessions? Seven or eight
...takes of "You're Right, I'm Left,
...She's Gone." Gave me the feeling
...that tapes of Elvis reading bedtime
...stories to little Lisa Marie would be
...the next rare and unreleased tracks
...to come out. Well, get ready for four
...takes of "Loving You," two of
..."Party," and new versions of "Treat
...Me Nice," and "Young And Beauti...ful." CD buyers get even more rare
...and unreleased treats. Boy howdy!
...Also get ready for digital re-master-
...ings of Elvis live albums like *Elvis:
...Aloha From Hawaii*, Elvis In Person,
...and Elvis At Madison Square. Don't
...say I didn't warn you.

LEGENDS UNITE-A move that has to be one of the biggest in the history of music. The legendary Berry Gordy chairman of Motown Records has reached out and acquired the services of the legendary Al Bell. Anyone who has ever listen to records any where in the world has enjoyed the brilliant works of Berry Gordy's Motown magic from hitsville and the infamous sound of Memphis from Al Bell's Stax Records.

It is simply mind boggling when you think about these two men have sold enough records to (if laid side by side) stretch around the world several times. More importantly, here are two gaints in the business who have put egos aside and combined their talents. It is the opinion of this reporter, these two brilliant minds will create a major musical dynasty. Words could never explain my feelings when I learned of this move.

It makes a very powerful statement to the entire world when two giants have operated independently, successful of each other and now have combined their many and varied talents. This is a positive sign that hopefully will bring a unification of more black talent. When you consider the bastion of talent in all areas of entertainment the power base is simply awesome!

Best wishes for many successes to the Motown Family headed by some first class professionals: Berry Gordy Jr, Al Bell, Lee Young Jr, Skip Miller and Ronnie Jones.

ROCK CANDY PRODUCTIONS- There are varying opinions regarding the state of rap music. During a conversation with Jack Allen and Bill Kamarra president and vice president respectively of Rock Candy Productions and B-Boy Records a subdivision of Rock Candy with Bill serving as president and Jack as vice president. These gentlemen have been a very strong force in the continual growth of rap music since the emergence of Rock Candy Productions/B-Boy Records.

They concur, rap music has not and will not reach its full potential until kids in every market have daily radio exposure to this art form. The restrictions regarding rap music being apart of the regular formats of most radio stations have been limiting. However Jack and Bill combine a strong business acumen with street savvy to continue their success patterns. Their team of professionals have been able to garner massive exposure through clubs, stores, college stations, secondary stations and some major market exposure. Both were quick to stress the important role distribution plays in a records' success. You must make the product available to the consumers where it is being played.

A full service entertainment complex, they operate Sweatheart Distributors a division of Rock Candy Productions which handles distribution of many labels through their company. Forthcoming releases include The B-Girls album entitled B-Girls Live And Kicking, a dedication album to the late Scott LaRock, B-Boys At Work, a house music album entitled Put Your Meat To The Beat, a blues and jazz album by Sax Kari, as well as a love album for the quiet storm formats. Plans for a jazz and gospel label are being formulated at this time. They currently have a weekly cable television show entitled Rappers Around The World.

When you talk about an all encompassing entertainment business, you must mention Rock Candy Productions, B-Boy Records, Sweatheart Distributors, Jack Allen and Bill Kamarra. Considering the very aggressive profitable position their company has taken in the music business, it is understandable why the major labels have also taken a more aggressive attitude towards this musical art form that continues to expand rapidly outside the New York and eastern seaboard areas. Hats of to the group of tenaciously determined professionals at Rock Candy Productions.

Hall Of Fame

And, to close it all, Mick Jagger blasted through "Satisfaction" – punching his hip, pointing at the sky, jutting out his lip, in general doing Mick Jaggerisms. He even threw his shoes into the audience, and Bruce Springsteen even sang back-up vocals. Also on the stage – playing, singing, tapping tambourines – were the E Street Band, Ringo Starr, Julian Lennon, Dave Edmunds, Peter Wolf, Mick Jones, Muhammad Ali (!), Arlo Guthrie, Ramblin' Jack Elliott, Elton John, Neil Young, Nile Rodgers, a whole mess of people. When Graham intoned his, "See you next year," things were just starting to roll – nobody looked like they had any place better to go, nobody looked like they wanted to stop singing. If the room was only rented until a certain hour – what, one o'clock? – the room should be changed. Sure, rock 'n' roll history was made up on that stage, but a really galvanizing evening could have shaped up.

In any case, Ahmet Ertegun and Jann Wenner (Hall of Fame chairman and executive vice-president, respectively) served as amiable hosts, as always, and everything was done with dispatch. A model of the Hall of Fame was shown – I.M. Pei (who was in the house) designed it and it isn't just going to be in Cleveland, it is going to stand on a bluff overlooking Cleveland, overwhelming Cleveland. Pei has designed an eye-catcher, and the Governor of Ohio and the Mayor of Cleveland were beaming. Look for doors to open in '91, or thereabouts.

The march of awards went like this:

Ertegun (subbing for Smokey Robinson) inducted Berry Gordy in the Non-Performer category. Gordy (who came to the stage to the strains of "Money," which he wrote and made) made a gracious speech, ending it with, "God bless rock 'n' roll."

Pete Seeger inducted Leadbelly (as a Forefather).

Neil Young (subbing for Jack Elliott, who rambled in too late) inducted Woody Guthrie (as a Forefather), and Arlo Guthrie accepted by saying, "I am fairly sure that if my father had been alive today, this is the one place he would not be."

Jeff Beck (subbing for Chet Atkins) inducted Les Paul (as a Forefather) without saying very much, and Les accepted without saying very much.

And then the big guns, the official Hall of Fame inductees:

Billy Joel charmingly inducted the Drifters.

Elton John charmingly inducted the Beach Boys.

Little Richard (who was a charter electee to the Hall, but who couldn't make it the year he was inducted due to a car accident) inducted the Supremes by talking – and talking and talking – about Little Richard.

Bruce Springsteen intelligently inducted Bob Dylan. Springsteen, when he does these things, talks with authority and insight, sort of like a rock critic. He nailed Dylan's specialness right to the wall: perfect. And he even got in a jab at rock critics, praising Dylan's "undervalued" recent work, saying that if it were done by a newcomer, that newcomer would be tagged as "the new Bob Dylan."

And Mick Jagger very wittily inducted the Beatles (the Beatles just got in under the 25-year wire the Hall goes by, the Stones aren't due till next year).

And George Harrison, Ringo Starr, Yoko Ono, Julian Lennon and Sean Lennon came to the stage. Paul McCartney stayed home, issuing a statement that read, in part: "After 20 years, the Beatles still have some business differences which I had hoped would have been settled by now. Unfortunately, they haven't been, so I would feel like a complete hypocrite waving and smiling with them at a fake reunion."

What that meant, nobody seemed to know. It sort of put a damper on the evening. "All Things Must Pass," wrote a Beatle once. "All You Need Is Love," wrote another. Doesn't matter. Paul stayed home.

"We love Paul," said George Harrison.

John would have been there, said George.

John would have been there, said Yoko.

And Diana Ross stayed home (rumor had it that Michael Jackson was set to do the inducting if the head Supreme made an appearance). Unlike McCartney (and Little Richard and Aretha Franklin in previous years), Ross didn't send a statement, didn't send somebody to thank everybody for her, didn't do anything. Mary Wilson – happy with the limelight – did the thank yous.

Flying Fish Lands Two Grammy Nods

For the eleventh time in the last 13 years, Chicago-based Flying Fish Records has garnered prestigious Grammy nominations.

player of American bluegrass. The pairing was as ingenious as any studio match-up in recent memory.

Of the two albums so honored this year, Together At Last featuring fiddle greats Stephane Grapelli and Vassar Clements was the biggest surprise, succeeding to finalist stages in the highly competitive Country Instrumental category. Grapelli, of course, is among the most renowned violinists in jazz, having practiced that trade for over 60 years, gaining immense fame for his work with Django Reinhardt. Clements, on the other hand, is chiefly known as a pre-eminent

Not so surprising is the nomination of blues-harmonica legend James Cotton for his LP Take Me Back. This album is the consummate spirit of the rural south as it was experienced by sharecroppers and cotton-pickers, enriched by the presence of Chicago blues exponents Sam Lawhorn (guitar), Sam Lay (drums) and Bob Anderson (bass). The latter album is on the Blind Pig label, which is distributed nationally by Flying Fish. ■

Artists On Tour

Sleepy La Beef Goes Nationwide

WALTHAM, MA - Rockabilly/blues artist Sleepy La Beef brings his guitar and much admired rough-gruff and tough-enough vocal style to the stage of the Palomino Club in North Hollywood, CA on January 28 as part of a national tour that will take the country rocker throughout the east coast, the south, southwest and the west coast, according to the artist's management group, John Penny Enterprises.

Profile recording group Cucumber has set out on a winter tour of the northeast, starting with a stop at The Jam in Buffalo, NY this Friday (January 29), and continuing to North Hampton, MA; Albany; Portland and Cambridge, MA then heading back to NYC to gig at Siberia and take a five day rest before heading down to Swarthmore College in Pennsylvania and hitting the 9:30 Club in Washington, DC and the 8X10

Club in Baltimore. And that's still not all. Cucumber then slices through four nights in New York and surrounding area before returning to Portland to round out their northeast tour on March 10. Keep the home fires burning; these are gonna be cold Cucumbers. Profile also reports that their debut album is now active on twenty radio stations, including WRAS, Atlanta. Indie Groove

Hello again. Boy, you take two days off and come back to four days' work. My apologies to all the folks who wrote or called that I haven't been able to touch bases with yet. Please keep those cards and letters coming.

Item. Gerry Granahan, president of Caprice Records since the label's inception in the 60s, has re-established the company with headquarters in Lancaster, Pennsylvania. The venture brings rock and roll veteran Joey Welz into the Caprice organization as vice president/A&R, and also incorporates Welz' own label, American Radio Records, as a subsidiary. Product currently being promoted includes a new version of the Comet's classic "Rock Around The Clock." Welz was a member of Bill Haley's aggregation and has toured with such R&R legends as Fats Domino, Little Richard and Jerry Lee Lewis. Caprice has also signed "Paperboy," a rock group from Iowa who want to be as big as Kansas; and Gilbert Espitia, who the label touts as being "an eighties version of Richie Valens and Buddy Holly." Product is available on request by writing Caprice/American Radio Records, 621 Park City Center, Lancaster, PA 17601.

Item. Another rock re-make, this one on the Keep A-Rockin' label, features The Coastwatchers, a group comprised of ex-Little Richard sidemen, Larry Lennear (saxophone) and Charles Connor (drums), with vocals by the group's leader, Robert Leslie, who also contributes guitar and keyboards giving out with Eddie Cochran's "Teenage Cutie." Get listening copies from 1972 Palmerston Place, #201, Hollywood, CA 90027, or call the label at (213) 662-5666.

Item. Singer/songwriter Chelsea, we are told, has released an album on Purple Panda Records entitled Rags To Riches which is currently available throughout Shelbyville, KY. Producer Jada Stucker is handling promotion. Contact her at (502) 633-2090 if you'd like a listening copy.

Item. Louis and Clark will be exploring new territory when they open at the Club Lingerie in L.A. this Wednesday (January 27, 1987) . . . we'll try to catch them before they trek further into L.A.'s uncharted wilderness of exposure rooms. Their album, Hollywood Capacity Maximum, stirred up some national trade attention. For a copy contact The Press Network (213) 664-3392.

Item. If you've been wondering if there is a viable way for medium-sized independent labels with some catalog to expand their marketing internationally without adding sixteen people to the payroll, or stepping off into an abyss without hope of success due to their lack of knowledge of the jargon, protocol, procedures and strategies necessary to effectively license, promote and administrate product on the international level, check out the services offered by The Oversees Connection. This firm, owned by Peter Pasternak, former International Director at 20th Century Records and former International West Coast Director for Motown, might be the answer. According to Pasternak, he has found that there is a massive international market ready to gobble up 12" dance singles, quality jazz, heavy metal and legitimate blues product, among other musical categories. Pasternak is reachable by phone at (818) 905-0163, or by writing to The Oversees Connection, 4543 Willis Avenue, Sherman Oaks, CA 91423.

Item. The Record Plant's mobil unit has been in use recording hard rockers Racer X for the Shrapnel label during the group's two-night gig at the Country Club in Reseda, CA. The project marks the initial team outing for co-producers Ron Bloom and Ricky Delena. The album is the third for the popular L.A. group.

Item. More news from Austin, TX. Jungle Records announces that they will unite with Beehive Records in the formation of a new label, Beehive/Jungle, for the purposes of recording and distributing a wider variety of music including funk, reggae, rap and African.

Item. Remember, next week The Independent Way salutes music industry sweethearts and, in March, takes you to the IAC meetings and other independent activities at the 30th Annual NARM Convention. We'll also be saluting Musicland with an in-depth feature. Watch for it. And, as always, stay indie groove.

Record Bar

ACCESSORIES

Attendees at the NARM operations conference in Chapel Hill, NC were treated to a tour of Record Bar's prototype retail outlet in the new Southcoast Mall. In addition to modular island displays, the store's features include neon signs, under the counter type storage in its display cabinets, cassette cut-out bins, a peg-board style accessories wall, video customer control and, of course, the ultimate in scanning equipment at the check-out counter.

SALE

PHOTOS BY PHYLLIS J. WICKHAM

Nestled amid the pines in the rolling hills of Durham, NC is one of the most efficient record distribution centers in the country. Located on a twenty-plus acre site, Record Bar Distributing Center pops up amid deserted sharecropper cabins and long unworked patches of farmland. As the chartered tour bus pulls up at the entrance and the NARM conference attendees spill out in the chilly afternoon air, no one suspects that they are about to spend two hours walking through a sophisticated, fully computerized operations center. No one, except perhaps those familiar with Record Bar president Barry Bergman and his retail chain, expected to find state of the art systems in the sleepy southern hills.

What a surprise.

Let's start with 57,000 square feet of main floor space, plus a return mezzanine over 24,000 square feet and a pick mezzanine extending over an additional 27,000 square feet. And then there is the lobby/reception and administration office accounting for another 15,000 square feet. Over 28,000 pick bins where product is a number not a name, and computer terminals control every phase of the distributing operation. It's hard to describe. You should have been there.

JAZZ/BLUES

Joe Locke
SCENARIO
Cadence Jazz Records
(CRJ 1034)

Some of the freshest, hippest, most sincere jazz has been released by Cadence Jazz in Redwood, New York. Perhaps the quintessential example is young vibes player, Joe Locke, who recently released an inspiring LP called Scenario for the label.

Resembling Bobby Hutcherson's style more than that of other familiar vibes players, Joe is a master of an instrument not traditionally as visible as the saxophone or the piano, making it a tougher nut to crack into the scene. Locke has solved the dilemma by becoming the leader of his own solid quintet on Scenario.

The flavor of the album engenders feelings of John Coltrane, Hutcherson, McCoy Tyner, and Bill Evans to name a few. Pianist Andy Laverne actually replaced Bill Evans in his trio shortly before Evans passed away, gaining a depth of understanding into his music that few players have ever attained. Heralded by Locke as one of the strongest composers on today's Jazz scene, Laverne contributes two powerful original pieces, "Asap" and the title track, "Scenario." Combined with bassist Fred Stone's "Franconia," the first side is an out-of-mind sojourn reminding this listener of the potency of innovative jazz music.

The flip side takes us to new heights and depths of imagination with tenor Jerry Bergonzi's "Conjunction," Locke's own "Beauty in the Brambles" and the standard "Young and Foolish." Highly reputable drummer Adam Nussbaum rounds out the band with an attentive ear and lots of spark. Gene Ferriter

Flamenco Guitar Music of Ramon Montoya & Nino Ricardo
PACO PENA, soloist
Nimbus 5093

The flamenco style stems from two distinct traditions, the older style combining soloist and singer to form the "cante jonde" or flamenco song, and the modern virtuoso solo style which is typified by the present recording. Drawing on the work of Montoya and Ricardo, guitarist Paco Pena demonstrates flawless rhythm and extraordinary dexterity through thirteen short works by the two flamenco masters. Pena negotiates the most difficult passage-work with ease; particularly impressive are his arpeggio figures and those sections combining rhythmic accompaniment and a melody line.

Nimbus Records prides itself on achieving a natural sound on its CD recordings, and this one is no exception. Tape hiss is virtually non-existent allowing all the nuances of the performance to come through. Also provided are extensive background notes on the composers, the soloist, and the flamenco tradition in general. The running time for this CD is 55.04. Highly recommended for guitar and flamenco enthusiasts. Gary Starr

Richie Cole

LOS ANGELES, CA - Jazz alto saxophonist Richie Cole was the guest of honor at a cocktail reception hosted by Milestone/Fantasy Records at LA's premier jazz club, the Vine Street Bar & Grill, prior to taking the stage at 9:15 to bring his "Alto Madness" to an appreciative first-night audience.

Cole's appeal goes beyond the bebop jazz phrasings at which he is so adept, to encompass myriad musical styles and moods. He stretches out on tunes like Tadd Dameron's "On A Misty Night," proving that his reputation as a master of the fingers, faster-than-the-eye school of sax is well earned. The technique is fun to watch and even more exciting to hear. Rather than the blurred confusion one often hears when lesser players attempt to accelerate, Cole's virtuosity allows the listener to single out every note, to ride with him on a roller coaster that plunges downhill at break-neck speed then zooms upward, slowing occasionally to take the listener around a fresh curve. They say some people are born with silver spoons in their mouths. If such things are possible, then Richie Cole must have been born sucking on a reed.

In response to a request for a blues number, Cole provided a rich, turbulent, and gutsy version of "Kansas City," using his solo space to enlighten the listener as to his own influences. There is a lot of Coleman Hawkins and Sunny Stitt. Continuing glimpses of Charlie Parker. A respect for Coltrane. But there is never imitation, never more than a brief nod of the horn, so to speak, as if to indicate, "hey, guys, I'm glad I got to hear you... I'm glad you were there . . . now, this is me." then Cole will climb aboard that personal roller coaster again, using the familiar "Cloudburst" as track and trellis; climbing, dipping, soaring, sometimes flying inches above the rails, then touching down lightly, with a kind of satisfaction, as if he had successfully brought home the eggs after a perilous adventure with a Hobbit.

Despite his individualism and quite remarkable knowledge and control, there is no pretentiousness here, none of the 'I know something you don't know' jazz that often raises its horn-rimmed head. Cole's playing reveals a respect for the melody as well as an inventiveness that searches over, under around and through the harmonics. His current LP is well-named, and should be just the corridor to lead Cole, and his Alto Madness concept, to a wider audience. ■ Phyllis J. Wickham

NINTH ANNUAL ACE AWARDS - As award shows go, this one was poorly paced with convenient snooze segments and a couple of laughs here and there from such comedians as Bob Golphwaite and Billy Crystal. Jennifer Holliday delivered an outstanding gospel number, which was the only live singing in the show. The problem with the ACE awards is that Cable has so many stations and programs which are selectively seen that most of the nominated shows had never been viewed, either by the awards presenters, audience or home viewers. I don't care if they gave away ACE's between acts of Oklahoma, it still would be a meaningless exercise for the general public. The Emmy's will be covering a lot of these categories anyway. Don't get mad we love you in Cable. You are responsible for more innovative shows, comedy, sporting events - more risk taking than the major networks. I'm sure there must be a more interesting way to get out the word. Let's keep the ACE's an industry function, for the time being anyway.

Topping the list of individuals receiving ACE's were Barbara Babcock for Actress in a Dramatic Series (USA Network's Alfred Hitchcock Presents.) Timothy Bottoms for Actor in a Dramatic Series (HBO's The Hitchhiker.) Sir John Gielgud for Actor in a Movie or Miniseries (A&E Cable Network's Time After Time.)

Hal Holbrook for Informational or Documentary Host (SuperStation TBS' Portrait of America.) Robin Williams for both Performance in a Comedy Special and Writing a Comedy Special (HBO's On Location Robin Williams, an Evening at The Met.) Major program winners were Showtime's Paul Simon's Graceland: The African Concert for Music Special; ESPN's The America's Cup - Challenge Down Under for Sports Event Coverage Series; The Learning Channel's Ordinary People for Documentary Series. The Golden Ace, for outstanding overall achievement went to Russia: Live from the Inside on The Discovery Channel.

SPEAKING OF CABLE INNOVATIONS - HBO has announced the presentation of Waldheim, which will explore the allegation that the former United Nations Secretary and current President of Austria was guilty of Nazi war crimes. The show will be in the form of a commission of inquiry with two legal teams presenting and challenging evidence before a panel of five internationally eminent judges. Colin Callender, HBO Showcase executive producer said, "Every effort is being made by HBO and Thames Television to insure fairness and impartiality during the inquiry. The framing of charges, rules of evidence and all legal procedures will be determined by the judges and attorneys who make up the Commission. The nine days of hearing will run uninterrupted as a judicial proceeding, with the television cameras present only as observers." The show is scheduled to debut in June, 1988.

FOX HILLS AND NFL QUICK RELEASE SUPER BOWL VIDEO - Fox Hills Video and NFL Film Video are planning to release season highlights for both NFC and AFC champions, plus footage from the Super Bowl, on February 15th. The Super Bowl itself will be played on Jan. 31. To deliver so quickly Fox Hill and NFL Films have placed all of their operations on around-the-clock schedules. Pre-order date for the 60 minute, $19.95 production is Feb. 1st.

NCTV ANNOUNCES "MOST VIOLENT" AWARDS FOR 1987 - The National Coalition On Television Violence released it's statistical "awards" for films with the most incidents of violence. The organization's Jan. 25th announcement first applauds Empire of the Sun, The Last Emperor, and Full Metal Jacket as the most educational films, each dealing with violence realistically as a human tragedy without glorifying it. Films rated "unfit" include The Running Man with 146 acts of violence per hour, Fatal Beauty with 134, Death Wish 4 with 116 per hour, and Robocop with 96. Masters of the Universe, a live action PG rated takeoff of the Mattel toy series, was rated the most violent film directed towards children with 137 acts of violence per hour. Arnold Schwarzenegger and Whoopi Goldberg were named most violent actor and actress of 1987.

EXECUTIVES ON THE MOVE IN VIDEO - Warner Home Video announced that Gordon Adam has been appointed Managing Director of Warner Home Video, Ltd., New Zealand. And Marla E. Levine has been appointed as an attorney, business affairs and legal, for the Video Division of Gulf & Western's Paramount Pictures Corp. Ellen Svaco has been named Manager of Creative Services for New World Video.

til the last minute - it was a question of getting the right guitars, drums. We always knew it was a good song."

The new album has a lot of latin tinged feels in it. Helliwell explains, "It seems to have reared it's ugly head this latin business (smiling). It's the product of the jazzier influence more predominate now since Rodger Hodgson left. I think it might have been Rick's writing with a drum machine that inspired some of the latin feel. It's also the first album we've done with a horn section, and it gives a live feel."

Part of the appeal of the new album Free As A Bird is it's excellent production values. The band brought in Tom Lord-Alge who had worked with Peter Gabriel and Steve Winwood to help with some mixes. "We work so slow... we'd go out and have a cup of coffee and he'd done another mix. He is a wonder at the mixing boards, he brought in special effects that we'd hadn't thought of. When you're working a year on an album it's hard to see the big picture. He comes in and punches you in the head and knees you in the balls and makes you wake up, then presents you with this startlingly different sound. We liked it. It put life into the tracks."

Free As A Bird uses the talents of some new sidemen. "Mark Hart, who was with us on the last tour and proved to be a very valuable asset to the band, is on the album and as a matter of fact collaborated with Rick Davies on the song 'Where I Stand'. He also sings answer lines with Rick. It's nice to have another voice on the album when one man is doing most of the singing."

Supertramp will embark on a world tour starting with Canada and the U.S. on January 30, 1988. Appearing live with the band will be guitarist Marty Walsh, keyboard sax player Brad Cole, and percussion player Steve Reed. Supertramp has always had a large international following. In support of the new album, the band recently returned from their first trip to Brazil and the turnout was impressive. "Our first concert was performed just after a thunderstorm before 70,000 soaked and avid fans in Rio. Soundwise it was difficult, but we went over very well. A week later we played in Sao Paulo to 137,000 people at a soccer stadium. As you can tell by the figures, we're quite popular in Brazil, and we plunged right in at the deep end. Nothing like a couple of gigs to get you sharpened up!"

Helliwell talked about Supertramp's audience. "Originally in the middle to late seventies the audience was a college crowd. With the success of Breakfast In America it expanded quite dramatically to young and old. It all obviously depends on the current success you have in a particular country.

The departure of Roger Hodgson was an important turning point in the sound of the band. What were the reasons for the departure, and will Supertramp perform any of his songs anymore? "On stage, for the moment, we just do 'The Logical Song' and 'School,'" says Helliwell. "We don't do a lot of Roger's songs, because we can't do them justice. Some of them are so much his voice. Like 'Dreamer' for example."

"With Roger and Rick writing the numbers, and Supertramp making an album every couple of years or so, each writer had four songs every two years. Roger was so prolific, he had a library of 30-50 songs or more and he wasn't getting his material out. He could have continued and done a solo album on the side, but ever since Breakfast in America he was hankering to leave, really. He thought Supertramp had run it's course, while we didn't. When he left, the other band members had a choice of calling it a day, or carrying on with Rick. We felt the band was still a viable and valid entity."

Supertramp's first album after Hodgson's departure was the darker Brother Where You Bound. "We had made a couple of light albums before making the last one with Roger, Famous Last Words which was another kind of light album. We just wanted to do something a little more serious. However on this tour we felt that the 'Brother Where Your Bound' piece would be too heavy, so we won't be doing it live. The new album is a lot lighter again, and that will be the vibe on the tour."

Use of live films will remain an integral part of Supertramp's live show. "We view ourselves as eight (with sidemen) musicians, not ego-superstars with the spotlight on them. The personalities are back a bit, so what you watch is the stage, lights and visuals which consists of a number of different films we've put together over the years. We update the films with each tour so they are a little different. We'll still have the well known train sequence for 'Rudy'. We have a new film for the new album cut "An Awful Thing To Waste," which is a song about wasting talent."

Concludes Helliwell, "The real test of a group is what you do live. With help, you can make almost anything work in the studio. But live... that's different."

IF JACK CAN'T COME TO THE MOUNTAIN...— ...Then the mountain will come to Jack. Jack Bruce (c), that is. The former Cream bassist recently joined former Mountain guitarist Leslie West (l) and Twisted Sister drummer Joe Franco (r) to lay down tracks for an album called Theme to be released this Spring by Passport.

And then there was Mike Love. After a lovely speech by Brian Wilson, Mike Love took the mike and put a charge into the evening. The Beach Boys were about harmony, he said, and all Paul McCartney could do was send a message through a high-priced attorney that he wouldn't show up. He challenged the "moptops" (the moptops?) to do 180 dates a year like the Beach Boys, challenged "the Boss" (pointing his finger at Springsteen) to dare climb the stage with the Beach Boys, challenged Billy Joel and Mick Jagger and anybody else he could think of to try to cut it with the Beach Boys. He ranted on. Al Jardine, Brian Wilson and Carl Wilson quietly slipped off the stage. People were booing, people were hissing, people were yelling things like, "Get off the stage schmuck." Mike Love ended by saying that, hell, all anybody'd be able to say now is that Mike Love is crazy and, "they've been saying that for years." Afterwards, Al Jardine went over to apologize to Ringo Starr and George Harrison. And then everybody was able to get a laugh at Mike Love's expense.

Bob Dylan talked about forgiveness. Muhammad Ali took a bow. Bill Graham hustled people on and off the stage. Paul Simon and Swift Lazar schmoozed around the room. Ramblin' Jack Elliott finally showed up.

The 1960s entered the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in proper fashion.

Brazil Record Sales Hold Ground

Christopher Pickard

RIO DE JANEIRO — Despite Brazil's roller-coaster economy, 1987 turned out to be a better year for the record companies than they could have possibly expected, with sales only dropping 12% from 1986, which was a boom year.

According to figures recently released by the Association of Brazilian Record Producers, 55 million albums were sold in Brazil in 1987 and 7.5 million tapes. This is against 33 million sold in 1985, a figure which had remained relatively stable for nearly a decade.

The top-selling artist in Brazil, for the second year running, was Xuxa, an attractive model who hosts a children's television show on the all-powerful TV Globo network. Xuxa has two albums in the top ten: Xegundo Xou da Xuxa, which has sold 2,639,000 units and Karaoke da Xuxa, which has sold 627,000 units.

Roberto Carlos, who used to reign supreme in terms of record sales, sold 1.8 million units of his 1986 release in 1987, and 1.5 million units of his newest release.

The fifth-largest selling album in Brazil in 1987 was the soundtrack to the Globo soap opera, O Outro (1.7 million units), followed by Trem da

Alegria (one million units), Michael Jackson's Bad (700,000 units), and Madonna's True Blue (680,000 units).

Besides Jackson and Madonna, other international albums to ring up healthy sales in Brazil included Julio Iglesias' Un Hombre Solo (600,000), Supertramp's Autobiography (250,000), Police's Greatest Hits (200,000), Sting's Nothing Like the Sun (125,000), U2's The Joshua Tree (180,000), A-ha's Scoundrel Days (180,000), Carly Simon's Coming Around Again (80,000), Suzanne Vega's Solitude Standing (50,000), and the soundtrack to La Bamba (254,000).

The success of the recent Sting and Tina Turner tours and a Hollywood Rock Festival, has firmly placed Brazil on the tour map, especially as large multinational sponsors are coming forward to bank the show. Coca-Cola in the case of Sting, Pepsi Cola for Tina Turner, and British American Tobacco for Hollywood Rock and the Free Jazz Festival.

Brazil has also managed to establish the credentials of its promoter, especially Manuel Pladian, who looked after Sting and Tina Turner and Mills & Niemeyer, who put together Hollywood Rock.

Mike Oatman... "The Country Radio Seminar Has Become A Premier Event."

Since its debut almost 20 years ago, the Country Radio Seminar has gained a reputation as an event which gets better and better every year. It has grown from an original three or four dozen broadcasters to an annual attendance now approaching 1,000 country radio leaders and music industry professionals.

Country Radio Seminar executive director, Frank Mull, has had a lot to do with the growth and magnitude of the event according to Mike Oatman, who is president of the Country Music Radio Broadcasters Organization. In a phone interview, Mike Oatman praised Mull and the entire organization for progressive efforts.

"First, let me give a lot of well-earned credit to Frank Mull," said Oatman. "As executive director, and one of the 'founding fathers' (along with Charlie Monk, Biff Collie, and Tom McEntee) of the seminar, he has been truly dedicated to its success. Frank is the force that makes it work. From the 40, or so, people who attended our very first seminar, to the over 1,000 attendants, now, Frank has built the seminar into a premier event for country radio and the music industry. It has been a labor of love on the part of Frank Mull and those other valuable volunteers who work so hard.

Mac Allen, a member of our board of directors, has also been an important, long-time contributor to the seminar. He cares, deeply, about the image of the seminar. We try to keep it as 'pure' as possible. We don't promote a convention-type atmosphere. There is very little party time, but a lot of learning time. We feel this has contributed to our growth."

Oatman went on to explain some important facts about what has been happening within the organization. "About five years ago, we hired a planning facilitator to come in, and we charted a five-year growth plan. It has paid off for us. We defined our mission and purpose.

"There was a question about making this a 'membership' set-up. We voted that idea down because we felt there were too many of those structures now. And, we were concerned about the seminar being a single event to raise any working funds. If the weather should play nasty with us, it could hurt badly. So, we decided to make other products to offer country radio. For example, this year, we will have a video tape, from/of the seminar, available.

"We identified the need to work closely with the music industry personnel and entertainers. We knew we should seek more attendance from those individuals and organizations. Now, the attendance ratio is nearly 50-50 in relation to country radio and music industry people. And, we have added an additional day to the seminar.

"We have also tried to get more artists involved and, this year, Kenny Rogers and Charlie Daniels will be speaking to the group. Also, Frank Mull has just announced that Hank Williams, Jr. the ACM and CMA 1987 Entertainer of the Year, will perform on the Super Faces show. Yes, we're proud of our growth and success, and we hope to see many old and new friends in Nashville during February 11 through 13."

ALBUM REVIEW

LYLE LOVETT - Pontiac - Curb/MCA, MCA-42028

Lyle Lovett is surely one of the most individual stylists to come along for a good while. You'll find a lot of good acoustic sound in his arrangements. His phrasing is markedly different, and the tempos and rhythm patterns play important roles in his compositions. You'll find some controversial lyrics in his songs ("If I Had A Boat" and "She's No Lady"). However, one can't deny the attention Lovett's writing demands. Lovett has gathered a multitude of fans in the recent past. We believe this new LP will add to that total. Lovett may best be described as "intriguing."

ALBUM REVIEW

PATTY LOVELESS - If My Heart Had Windows - MCA, 42092

From the first cut on, the country is obvious. Patty has come a long way in her vocal expression since her early releases. This LP gives us a good variety of tempos and mood changes, and affords us a good look at Patty's deliveries of such. Production and arrangements deserve special mention. There is a very "honest" feel about the total product. The title cut, "If My Heart Had Windows" (her new single), stands tall amid the selections. And, the Hank Williams classic, "I Can't Get You Off Of My Mind," sure does sound good!

OUT OF THE BOX

HIGHWAY 101 (Warner Bros., 7-28105) Cry, Cry, Cry (2:28) (Sweet Baby-BMI; Music City-ASCAP) (J. S. Sherrill, D. Devaney) (Producer: P. Worley)

From the guitar pickin' solid country intro, Highway 101 hops on this song and rides it to the end. This release has been a "hot cut" on their album, and we can see why. The true country lead vocal of Paulette Carlson has a built-in exciting quality, and the harmonies are perfectly placed and blended. The song has a "lost love, but true devotion" theme. The arrangement is up-tempo in traditional fashion. Highway 101 is a true country group and the overall sound of the group is very refreshing to true country fans!

FEATURE PICKS

CRYSTAL GAYLE and GARY MORRIS (Warner Bros., 7-28106) All Of This And More (3:36) (MCA, Sweet Angel, No Ears-ASCAP; Screen Gems-EMI-BMI) (B. Foster, J. Kimball, G. Prestopino) (Producer: J. E. Norman)

Here's a beautiful mid-tempo ballad for these two outstanding and finely blended voices. Look for this one to win a lot of duet awards. The lyrics are impressive, as are the talents of Gayle/Morris. It's "black tie" country with a super strong production.

DARDEN SMITH (Epic, 34-07709) Little Maggie (2:59) (Dejamus, Crooked Fingers-ASCAP) (D. Smith) (Producer: R. Benson)

This product is "bluegrass" in its production and arrangement. It features a pleasant tempo and lyrics. Darden Smith performs this one with a choppy, but effective, delivery. There is some fine fiddle playing on the "fills," and a long, good ride at the end. We really enjoyed it.

NASHVILLE NOTE-ABLES

Florida Bill...Comes Back To Country!

His real name is Earl Lett, but country music fans know him much better by "Florida Bill." Earl is from Pensacola, Florida (originally), and he picked up that nickname while playing a club there in 1980. The name stuck with him and, somehow, when you meet him, the "Florida Bill" name seems to fit better.

He sings country music straight from the heart. However, even though the songs come from the heart, they surely do pass through his soul on the way to the listener. Florida Bill's latest single was a song titled "I Want To Love You All The Time," which he wrote and recorded on Sunbonnet Records, with Gene Gordon producing.

There's another difference between Florida Bill and most country singers. He doesn't claim the guitar as his main instrument. Rather, he is a saxophone player deluxe. Bill says his first professional gig was for his landlord when he was very young. His landlord heard Bill practicing and invited Bill to his house to play sax while his daughter played piano. With a big smile, Florida Bill said, "I made fifteen dollars for that job!"

By the time Florida Bill was in high school, he had his own five-piece band, and it was a good group, according to Bill. "We mixed up the music format..played anything the audience wanted to hear. We even landed an overseas tour. After I got home from that tour, I wanted to try something different for a while. I moved on to see what California was like.

"I was in a barber shop, out there, when Ike Turner's baritone sax player came in and told me that Ike was looking for a sax player. He told me not to even try for the job if I wasn't totally confident of my abilities. I went right down and auditioned. I got the job, and stayed with Ike for two years."

From '72 through '83, Florida Bill formed another group to call his own. He also formed Beantown Records up in (you guessed it)..Boston. Bill followed his heart in '83, however. He sold Beantown Records, broke up the band, and headed for Nashville to concentrate on his career in country music..his first love. Currently, he has an album on the market with the same title as his single. He wrote all the songs on the album, so his talents are multiple. And, if you want to know what type showman he is, here's a hint...he went to Homestead, Florida to play for three weeks, and they held him over for eight months!

Florida Bill (Earl Lett) is a pleasant and charming man. In many ways, his broad smile and genuine friendliness reminded me so much of the late, great O. B. McClinton. Florida Bill is not your ordinary country artist. Bill knows that, and he is justly proud of the fact. He has a style and sound of his own.. and that's what it takes to succeed in this maze of directions called the country music business!

Joe Henderson

RONNIE DOVE IS IN EXCELLENT COMPANY. Singer Ronnie Dove is surrounded by the members of The Forester Sisters following a recent appearance of the Nashville Network's "Nashville Now" program. The Diamond Records artist performed his forth-coming single, "Heartache Going Downtown," during his guest appearance on the highly rated show.

INDIE SPOTLIGHT

DUSTY MARTIN (Sound Track, ST-1103) I Don't Love You (2:29) (Screen Gems-EMI-BMI) (J. Henderson, D. Mitchell) (Producer: J. Henderson)

"Don't you believe" the title of this song! She does love you, and you will fall in love with the soft, innocent voice of Dusty Martin! The song lyrics and melody are clever and appealing. It's one of those you will want to hear again. You'll be singing along. The production reserves the spotlight for Dusty's vocal, but the instrumentation and arrangement are purely complementary. Super choice to follow up her first chart song!

INDIE FEATURE PICKS

ATLANTA (Southern Tracks, ST-1091) Sad Cliches (3:00) (Eufaula-BMI) (B. Buie, R. Hammond) (Producer: D. Johnson)

Good, clean sound with a production that perfectly places emphasis through the arrangement. Excellent feel song with a driving beat. A very good release by Atlanta for Southern Tracks. Listen for the unique phrasing and some "echo" harmonies.

TERESA LAYNE MOODY (GBS, 761) The Joke Is On You (3:40) (Long Ride-ASCAP) (T. L. Moody) (Producer: D. Moody)

Oh, yes! This is country (get-down) blues! We were swaying to the beat. Strong, growling vocal by Teresa, complete with a "mean" sounding harp and piano rolls. It's blue, honky tonk country coming from one strong, little lady.

JUBAL (Starbrite, U-20388 M) Must Be Love (2:31) (Big Eyes-ASCAP) (J. Stark) (Producer: J. Stark)

Look for this new group to get some fine results from country radio. This is the first release from the new Starbrite label, and we're looking forward to more of this sound. John Stark tells the story with isolated lead vocal, but the dominant harmony is great! Up-tempo feel song, with fine potential for airplay.

DARK HORSE CONSENSUS

JAMES VANDERBURG - Love Me Tonight - L'il Bill, LB-106

James Vanderburg makes a habit of making good products. This one is no exception! Vanderburg does L'il Bill Records another fine job on this latest release. He ran away with the Dark Horse Consensus this week, and the vote was surely justified. Some of the stations giving James the nod were: WHON, KIXZ, WMUF, WASP, KBOE and KXAL.

RAPPIN' WITH THE WRITERS:

MARK SHERRILL

Mark Sherrill says, "I was never interested in anything else but music, when I was growing up." Mark did his growing up in Alexander City, Alabama, and started playing in a rock and roll band at the age of 13. He made his first trip to Nashville when he was 16. His parents had to beg him to come along for a visit with his sister Dianne Sherrill (prominent Nashville entertainer). After a trip to Printer's Alley, where he saw the Nashville Cats, they had to beg him to go back to Alabama.

Less than a year later, Mark was back in Nashville for good. He was cleaning tables at a local club when he met Al Gallico, prominent Nashville publisher. "He gave me a job running errands for his company. I'd take song tapes out to the famous artists...But, the writers, who were around Al's place, really inspired me...Guys like Norro Wilson, Billy Sherrill, Steve Davis and such. I learned to write from the best! And, thank God for Al Gallico! He's the fairest man I've ever known. He helped and encouraged me, and gave me complete freedom as a writer. Y'know, Billy Sherrill is my first cousin and I never met him until I came to Nashville."

Mark tells about meeting a new singer, a few years later, the first meeting was brief, but she said her name was Jill Crosston. The next time he saw her, her name was Lacy J. Dalton. Mark and Lacy J. have written some great songs together. Mark's biggest thrill was the first time he got to write with Billy Sherrill, and the results were thrilling, too. Their first song was "Red Wine And Blue Memories", which brought Mark his first BMI award. Since then, Mark Sherrill has gone on to become one of Country Music's finest writers.

AROUND THE ROUTE

Data East launched some new products at their recently held distributors meeting in Chicago (1/21 & 22). Among them - the "Oscar" (kit) and "Vigilante" videos, along with their second pin entry, "Secret Service", which drew terrific response from distributors. More details later.

We've heard some interesting observations from tradesters who attended the ATE convention in London earlier this month. C.A. Robinson's Ira Bettelmen, a regular at this noted international event, described it as a "successful show" but he noticed a decrease in American representation on the manufacturer and distributor level. "I saw products by such manufacturers as Atari, Bally, Data East, Konami, Sega and others, that have not as yet been introduced in the U.S. but will certainly be available at ACME '88 in Reno," he advised... World Wide Dist.'s Fred Skor, after an absence of about five years, made it a point to attend ATE this time around, accompanied by his wife, Kitty and his son, Doug. He made mention of the abundance of amusement machines with prizes (and fruit machines) that were prevalent on the exhibit floor and also commented about the "success of the one pound coin" (which replaced the one pound note) in England, stressing that it has helped bring about a "tremendous boom for the coin-op industry" out there. Fred noticed that some of the big cockpit games are operated at 1-play for a 1-pound coin; and many other games are priced at either 2-plays or 3-plays for a 1-pound coin. "What we need in the U.S. is a distinctive dollar coin", he told us. He also suggested that the major trade associations exert every lobbying effort in behalf of amusement games with prizes for the U.S. market. "The prizes could be limited accordingly and the games could include all amusement categories," he said. "The result would bring increased income for the operator"... Heard a number of favorable comments about a new helicopter game introduced by Sega at ATE. Believe it is called "Thunderblade" but we were unable to verify by deadline.

Veteran operator Lou Ptacek (Bird Music-Manhattan, KS) has been named "official historian" for AMOA, his project being to trace the chronological history of the association from its inception (as MOA) back in 1948 to the present time. And he is well qualified for the job. Lou, a past president of AMOA (1969-70), has racked up fifty years in the coin-op business, having started out while still in his teens!

Bally Midway's 'Escape From The Lost World'

Bally Midway is introducing an all new three-dimensional playfield environment in its new "Escape From The Lost World" pinball machine. The scenario might sound like something straight out of a science fiction movie, which puts you in a mysterious world, forgotten by time, where dinosaurs still roam the earth and volcanoes spew hot molten lava. There's a treasure to be found in this lost world, but the hunt involves risk and a heart pounding race against time.

"Escape..." utilizes three-dimensional effects throughout the playfield and these include craters, rocks and other realistic obstacles plus the unique "Bridge of Gold" skill shot feature to capture the player's interest.

Designed by Bally's Dan Langlois, the game challenges players at the very onset when they find themselves lost in a huge, time-forgotten crater peppered with goldern treasures, to the pulse-racing moment when they must Escape from the erupting volcano.

To Escape, players must first open the "Escape Gate" by hitting the three "Dino-Egg" drop targets. Next move is to climb to the second level by taking the mystery path or shooting into the center cave. The drama reaches a crescendo as the player's third flipper is set up for the thrilling shot across the treacherous "Bridge of Gold" leading to the volcano. The volcano erupts as the fourth flipper set up for the big Escape shot. Race against time, the player must Escape before the gate is closed. Upon completing the Escape, the player collects the big treasure.

The game employs all new nositics (in compliance with standardization committee guidelines) to simplify meter readings and adjustments. The hinged playfield allows for ease of servicing.

Further information may be obtained through factory distributors or by contacting Bally Midway Co. at 10601 W. Belmont, Franklin Park, IL 60131.

Rowe R-92 Shines On Super Sunday

CHICAGO - As the pre-game publicity was winding down and Super Sunday was fast approaching, Rowe International was gearing up, not only for the NFL's championship game, but for the halftime show as well. Officials at Rowe were already looking past the first thirty minutes of gridiron action because a 20-foot high Rowe jukebox replica would be the centerpiece of this year's halftime show - "Something Grand" - produced by Radio City Music Hall Productions (Cash Box, 1/16/88 issue).

"We're delighted to be part of America's favorite and most viewed annual sporting event," declared Rowe president Gilman King. "Having a giant replica of your best-selling product on the 50 yard line of the Super Bowl with 140 million people watching is a corporate dream come true."

"Actually, the 20-foot jukebox won't be a genuine working jukebox, but a detailed, expanded copy of our state-of-the-art R-92 jukebox," he explained. "We've provided Radio City Music Hall Productions with detailed drawings and specifications to make sure it will look just like a genuine article."

Along with the jukebox, highlights of the Super Bowl halftime show included appearances by the Radio City Music Hall Rockettes and legendary rock 'n roller Chubby Checker.

Rowe promoted its Super Bowl appearance by having its network independent and company-owned distributors hold Super Bowl parties during the game.

"The significance of the Super Bowl event extends beyond our company, King pointed out. "It serves as an ideal kickoff to a year-long celebration marking the 100th year of the jukebox." He went on to note "the jukebox remains an American music tradition" and has "come a long way from the first coin-operated units which had no amplifiers and could be listened to by just one person at a time." Today's jukebox

Airport Interest In Pay Phones Is On The Rise

CHICAGO - According to a recent survey by Washington, D.C. based Airport Operators Council International, which was featured in the December edition of Pay Phone News, there's been a noticeable increase in competition among private vendors for pay phone installations in airports. It was noted that about six percent of the phones presently in airports are under private vendor contract, with the majority still being local exchange company or AT&T units. However, the survey indicated that airport operators feel that competition in the market would serve to benefit the pay phone users.

When queried for opinions on what would be considered the ideal features of a pay phone, the respondents singled out phones that use coins, major credit cards and phone company credit cards, at the top of the list.

Only about one quarter of the airport operators who participated in the poll admitted to being familiar with the issues involved with pay phones, with more than one half stating they did not have the time to investigate those issues.

The data also revealed that pay phones have been making progress towards being recognized as source of revenue by airport operators, with almost half of those queried stating they would make a decision regarding on premises use within the next twelve months.

Those who responded to the survey represented 71 airports, nationwide, including such majors as Dallas/Fort Worth, Chicago, Dulles and LaGuardia.

King, who is a football fan, thinks this could be one of the best Super Bowl games ever, but concedes that the loudest cheers at his Super Bowl party will come at halftime when his favorite "player" - the Rowe jukebox - takes the field!

LCI To Market Nintendo Trademarks And Characters

CHICAGO - Nintendo of America Inc. announced an agreement with Leisure Concepts Inc. (NASDAQ: LCIC) granting that company the exclusive rights to license Nintendo's name and trademarked characters for use in non-video game products.

The agreement authorizes LCI to grant the use of Nintendo's registered marks and characters for a broad range of consumer products. Included in the agreement are such popular video game characters as "Super Mario Bros.", "Donkey Kong" and "Zelda", as well as the Nintendo Entertainment System trademark.

Commenting on the agreement, Howard Lincoln, senior vice president at Nintendo, said, "This agreement will provide selected third-part marketers in the United States and Canada with an opportunity to take advantage of the strong awareness levels and popularity of Nintendo's characters and registered marks."

Leisure Concepts Inc., with office in New York and Los Angeles, is a leading creative licensing firm and a publicly traded company. Nintendo of America Inc., based in Redmond, WA, is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Nintendo Company Ltd. of Kyoto, Japan. Nintendo Company Ltd. reported net sales of almost one billion dollars for fiscal year 1987.

Over 4 million households in the United States have a Nintendo Entertainment System (NES), and the company has a 70 percent share of the U.S. video game market. The success of Nintendo's "Donkey Kong" and "Super Mario Bros." has led to near universal awareness of the characters in both of these games. In addition, the success of Nintendo's "The Legend of Zelda" - the first video game software title to surpass sales of one million units since the resurgence of the industry - gave popularity to the character "Zelda". According to Lincoln, the popularity of the NES and its video game characters makes licensing these marks a logical way to stimulate market demand for Nintendo products.
